PROTEST TRIALS

Anti-US Riots Hit S. Korea

SEOUL (AP) — Anti-American demonstrations spread in South Korea today. The U.S. Army ordered American military personnel in the Seoul area to be restricted to base except for official business.

A U.S. Army spokesman called the confinement order a "temporary measure to reduce the possibility of incidents" in view of the wave of demonstrations demanding the U.S. government sign a status-of-forces agreement giving South Korea court jurisdiction over American servicemen in some instances.

About 300 university students defying stern new warnings from South Korea's ruling military junta marched out of Taegu University today in the third demonstration in a week resulting from the alleged beating of a Korean civilian trespasser by two U.S. Army officers last month.

A solid wall of police halted the students about 100 yards from the main gate of the university in South Korea's third largest city, about 200 miles southeast of Seoul.

Refusing to withdraw, the students squatted in the street and turned their protest into a sit-down strike. There were no reports of violence.

The government announced Friday night that the U.S. has agreed in principle to resume negotiations toward a status-of-forces pact. But it said Washington had raised issues which South Korea "finds difficult to accept."

It did not elaborate on these points but said the U.S. has been asked to reconsider them.

LATE FOR WORK BUTT HAD EXCUSE

NEWPORT, Isle of Wight (AP) — An unidentified man turned up late for work with this excuse: He was being held captive by a goat.

The man telephoned the Newport police Friday and appealed for help.

Police went to St. James Square in the centre of town. There they found the man imprisoned in a telephone booth. The goat was outside butting the door.

Police impounded the animal and the man went on to work.

US Sharply Protests Shooting in E. Berlin

Failure To Put Brakes On Rising Violence Hit

BERLIN (AP) — The United States sharply protested to the Russians today over shooting in connection with the escape of 14 East Germans Friday aboard an excursion boat in Berlin.

The protest was made in a letter by the U.S. commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, to Maj. Gen. Andrei I. Solov'yev, the Soviet commandant.

Watson charged that East German police fired some 200 shots from the Soviet sector of Berlin into the U.S. sector during the incident.

East German police shot from four points at the 386-ton pleasure boat Friedrich Wolf, which the East Germans hijacked for their escape to West Berlin.

The protest said: "Persistent failure to take cognizance in any way of the mounting number of acts of violence that are taking place in the area of your responsibility implies that you condone what is going on. I am gravely concerned over the situation..."

Woman Shot At

BERLIN (Reuters) — A young East German woman was shot at by East German border guards as she fled into West Berlin Friday night but escaped unhurt, West Berlin police said today.

The woman scrambled through the heavily guarded Communist border fortifications between East Berlin and the American sector district of Neukölln.

Soviet Bloc Steps Up ECM Attack

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The Soviet bloc nations today called for stepped-up integration of their economies in what appeared to be Moscow's answer to the growing challenge from the bustling European Economic Community.

The proposal was contained in a communique published in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda following a two-day meeting of Comecon, the Communist Council for Economic Mutual Assistance.

The communique also issued another Communist appeal for an international trade conference to set up an international trade agency with the aim of increasing world trade.

A similar appeal was issued nine days ago by Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a speech attacking the economic policies of the six-nation Common Market.

Hecklers Pound Green

SELKIRK, Man. (CP) — External Affairs Minister Howard Green bucked the severest heckling yet met by a federal cabinet minister in the Manitoba campaign, at a Conservative rally here Friday night.

More than 200 partisan voters sided with Mr. Green to shout down persistent heckling from 10 young persons, two of them women. The often noisy demonstration heard the minister call the group "hoodlums" and one of the hecklers threaten to punch a Conservative supporter in the nose.

Several times, Mr. Green was booed. But each time, the friendly audience clapped and shouted to drown out the taunts. Shouts of "go back to Russia" reverberated through the hall as Conservatives tried to control the heckling.

Mr. Green in his hour-long speech said "200 hoodlums" had disrupted Mr. Diefenbaker's Vancouver meeting for 9,000 decent, law-abiding citizens.

Muzzling Probe Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nine-month investigation into allegations that the Pentagon muzzled U.S. military men ended Friday.

Preliminary hearings were held last September after Senator Strom Thurmond (Dem., S.C.) pressed charges that the defence department was preventing military men from speaking out against communism to conform with what he called a "no win" foreign policy. Full hearings before a special Senate subcommittee opened Jan. 23.

Prominent City Lawyer E. C. Weddell Dies At 71

Well-known Kelowna lawyer and one of the outstanding residents of this city, Edwin Clyde Weddell, Q.C., died suddenly at his home here today.

Mr. Weddell was born in Ontario in 1891 and came to Kelowna in 1895 and has resided here since.

He was the first of the Kelowna young people to leave to seek higher education elsewhere. Finishing his schooling here he was for a short time employed by the Kelowna Courier as "printer's devil." He left to go to Vancouver where he articulated for the bar with a coast law firm.

When the Weddell family came here Okanagan Mission was the settlement settled around the Lequime store. Subsequently Lequime opened a store on the new townsite at the foot of Bernard Avenue and Mr. Weddell's father became manager of that store.

Throughout his life, Mr. Weddell wore a ring made from gold panned in Mission Creek and presented to him by his father. This was in the days of the placer mining boom on Mission Creek.

MANY SPHERES

Mr. Weddell had long been the solicitor for the city of Kelowna. He was active in many spheres, including politics and served for many years as an officer of the local and Okanagan Valley Conservative groups. His wife a few years ago ran as a Conservative candidate.

Mr. Weddell headed his own law firm here and a few years ago was joined by his son, Brian.

In addition to Brian, he is survived by two other sons, Ted in Trenton, Ontario and Phillip of Kelowna. There are 10 grandchildren.

Mr. Weddell has always enjoyed the respect of the community. He was known as a man of integrity and high principles. He was a staunch member of the Anglican church and had served as a diocesan official.

He was a charter member of the Kelowna Gryo Club and several years ago was made an honorary member of the club in token of his club and community services.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

BATTLE FIRES

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Firefighters are battling to get the upper hand with two forest fires which jumped their guards Friday in the Dawson Creek area. The fires, covering a total area of about 70 acres, are the most serious so far this year in the Prince George forest district. The other six fires burning in the district all are under control.

Lye Dose Kills B.C. Boy

KAMLOOPS (CP) — David McTague, 4, who was dramatically revived by his father after his heart stopped beating, died Friday night in hospital from a lethal dose of a poisonous fly spray.

The accident happened at Clearwater, about 80 miles north of here.

Helicopter pilot Bill Harvey, working in the Clearwater area, undertook to fly the child to hospital here. The boy's father, Harry McTague, went with him. Harvey landed at Blackpool, about 10 miles from Clearwater, when the boy turned blue. He got a salt solution from a nearby home and gave it to the child.

Franco Tightens Chains To Beat Trouble Makers

MADRID (AP) — Plagued by bombings and crippling strikes, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime today suspended for two years the Spanish people's constitutional right to choose where they want to live in Spain.

Under the sweeping edict, the government can control the movement of anyone opposed to Franco and keep agitators out of industrial centres hit by a seven-week siege of strikes that paralyzed mines and key factories.

The strikes—illegal in Spain—dropped off sharply late last month after the government promised some workers pay increases of up to 50 per cent.

Franco's cabinet approved the decree suspending a key clause in Spain's bill of rights a few hours after the second bomb incident in three days rocked the Banco Popular, a big financial institution in the heart of Madrid.

Philip Rapped By Newspaper

HONG KONG (Reuters) — A Chinese-owned newspaper in Hong Kong Friday accused the Duke of Edinburgh of making a "sneering reference" to Chinese and apophisides.

The "Tiger Standard" carried an editorial criticizing the Duke for a speech on wild life in New York Thursday, in which he said African rhinoceroses were being killed for their horn so it could be exported to China "where for some incomprehensible reason, they seem to think it acts as an aphrodisiac."

BLAST BREAKS WINDOWS

Police blamed the left-wing Popular Liberation Front for the bombings which shattered windows in the bank and caused other damage. They were linked to recent strikes.

Franco has charged that Soviet subversion and "hot-headed separatist" Catholic priests played a major role in the strikes, which killed more than 60,000 workers in the provinces of Asturias, Leon, Bilbao, Barcelona and Madrid itself.

Cars 'Welded' Together In Five-Fatality Crash

CALGARY (CP) — Five persons including four men in their 20s were killed in a head-on collision 18 miles south of here early today.

There were no survivors.

The two cars were almost welded together by the impact, said an ambulance attendant. The vehicles had to be pulled apart with tow trucks before the bodies could be removed.

The four young men, all passengers in one of the two late-model sedans, were believed employees of Alberta Government Telephone.

The fifth victim was in the other car. All were dead on arrival at hospital here.

"It was bang and that must have been the end of it," said the ambulance attendant.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch of highway 2, about six miles west of what is known locally as the Dewinton turn-off.

Nude Marchers Halted By RCMP at Krestova

TRAIL, B.C. (CP) — RCMP stopped about 25 nude women Friday from marching from the smouldering Sons of Freedom Doukhobor community of Krestova to the site of a court hearing of five sect members who stripped during a recent rally of Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Police said the women apparently were headed for nearby Crescent Valley where the five appeared in RCMP court and were remanded for one week. They are charged with nudity under the Criminal Code. They have been free since May 26 stripping and were picked up by RCMP Friday for appearance in court.

Earlier Friday some 50 Freedomite tarpaper and plywood homes in three communities in this southeast British Columbia Kootenay area were burned to the ground — but only after many of the women had taken such belongings as beds, washing machines and stoves away to safety.

And most of the Freedomite children were kept from school, duplicating a past performance by the sect that resulted in the provincial government taking many children from their parents.

FIRES FORM PROTEST

The fires, possibly the worst demonstration in an area known for Freedomite demonstrations and terrorism, were a form protest.

A reporter-photographer team from the Nelson News said some of the women at Krestova tossed buckets of water at police and reporters. About 10 of them stripped then started tossing stones.

"Get out, we're very upset today," they cried. "We can't be responsible for what we do. We'll pull your pants off. We'll throw rocks."

The woman said God told ustova, Shoreacres and Gilpin.

to set their homes on fire. But authorities said the fires were likely in protest against Monday's preliminary hearing in New Westminster of 71 of the sect's fraternal council who are charged with conspiring to intimidate the legislature of B.C. and the Parliament of Canada with acts of violence. T. G. Bowen-Colthurst of the attorney-general's department said the hearing will go on as scheduled.

Homes burned were at Krestova, Shoreacres and Gilpin.

Mrs. Makortoff, who had stripped as her home burned to the ground, was asked why she found it necessary to take off her clothes.

"There is an old saying—you have taken away the top, now here is the bottom. It means that they have taken everything away from me and it is a symbolic way of saying they can take the rest. If I am naked I have nothing."

Queen Mother Dines With Her Soldiers

MONTREAL (CP) — The Queen Mother and the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada, of which she is colonel-in-chief, met intimately Friday.

She paid a visit to the regiment's armory on mid-town Bligny Street early in the day and attended the centennial dinner of the officer's mess in the evening. Both affairs were private, with the press and public excluded.

In between, she was feted by the province of Quebec at a luncheon, performed the customary singing of the golden book at the city hall, and received numerous gifts for herself and family.

At the regimental dinner, the Queen Mother and two ladies-in-waiting were the only women allowed as 300 officers and former officers of the Black Watch sat down to nibble haggis, applaud the bagpipe band and sniff snuff.

The snuff was served from the traditional rum's head carrier, and the colonel-in-chief sniffed at her's delicately, without even a sneeze.

Two Killed, In Blaze At Flin Flon

FLIN FLON, Man. (CP) — Two men died today in a fire that destroyed the 80-room Flin Flon Hotel.

Eleven persons earlier listed as missing have been accounted for.

At 11 p.m., night manager, said earlier 11 of the 22 guests at the hotel were missing. He said later that all have been accounted for.

One of the victims was found dead in his room and the other died in the adjacent Hudson Bay Mining Company employees' hospital.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Hospital officials were reported considering evacuating the frame hospital.

There were no other reported injuries, although hotel patrons are reported to have escaped by jumping from second-storey windows and sliding down sheets to safety.

WEEK'S NEWS IN REVIEW

Election; Air Disaster; Algeria

Campaign nears finish
Rumors bomb attacks
Air crash kills 130

Canada's weary political corps headed for the home stretch of the June 18 election campaign this week, plugging issues that ranged from dollars to doctors.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker campaigned from Ottawa through to the Maritimes after a rugged weekend in Northern Ontario that included a near collision when his aircraft landed at Sudbury airport Saturday and a violent demonstration later in the nearby town of Chelmsford.

The incident developed as Diefenbaker arrived with Progressive Conservative candidate Don Gillis, central figure in a bitter union battle for control of Nickel workers in the area.

Gillis was struck on the neck with a stick and his shirt was ripped, but none of the demonstrators touched the prime minister or his wife.

At one point, however, the crowd surged close to the party and Mrs. Diefenbaker jabbed an elbow at a demonstrator.

"I didn't know my own strength," she commented afterward.

PREDICTS BETTER TIMES

The prime minister concentrated much of his attention during the week on economic matters.

In a television broadcast Monday night he said Canada is heading for "one of the greatest business and job upsurges in Canadian history." In Magog, Que., Thursday he warned that the government would take fast and drastic action against "greedy people" who use the devaluation of the Canadian dollar as an excuse to raise prices.

Liberal Leader Pearson also headed for the Maritimes after a week of stumping in Ontario. At Windsor, Ont., Thursday night he noted the prime minister's statement on prices and said: "It should be made clear that price controls don't stand by themselves but mean wage controls and profit controls too."

WOULD INCREASE AID

T. C. Douglas, the New Democratic Party leader, spoke on television Tuesday night and promised that if his party formed a government it would increase economic aid to underdeveloped countries to $6,000,000,000 a year, 10 times the present amount.

Social Credit Leader Robert N. Thompson addressed a Toronto rally the same night and charged that both the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives are "married to a deficit finance policy as outdated and ridiculous as the bustle and high-button shoes."

CRACKS DOWN

Finance Minister Fleming meanwhile made an appearance in St. John's, Nfld., Thursday that was remarkable for its lack of oratory.

Fleming had been invited to make a non-political speech to a Rotary club luncheon but at the last minute the club, at the demand of Liberal Premier Joseph Smallwood, withdrew the invitation.

Later the finance minister suggested that Cuba's Fidel Castro might come to Newfoundland "to learn something about the tactics of dictatorship."

ART TOURISTS DIE

The worst single-plane disaster in the history of civil aviation took place at Paris Saturday when an Air France jetliner crashed while trying to take off from Orly airport. In all, 130 persons were killed, including 121 members of the Art Association of Atlanta, Ga., which had chartered the Boeing 707. Two hostesses escaped from the burning wreckage.

RESUME ATTACKS

Algeria's Secret Army Organization ended a week-long "truce" Thursday with the resumption of rifle, bomb and gun attacks that left 11 dead. But division in the anti-Moslem underground showed on the same day one of its leaders, Jean Georges Sarraudet, emerged from hiding to urge his comrades to give up the campaign to keep Algeria French.

"We have lost the battle," he told a press conference.

Earlier in the week a similar appeal came from Edmond Jouhaud, condemned second-in-command of the Secret Army.

Observers thought the statement might win clemency from President de Gaulle for Jouhaud. But two other Secret Army members, the first to be sent before a firing squad, were executed at dawn Thursday near Paris.

BURN OWN HOMES

More than 50 homes of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were set ablaze in a mass fire demonstration Friday at three villages in British Columbia's Kootenays region. An RCMP spokesman said the Freedomites stood and watched the houses burn.

REBELLION CRUSHED

Venezuelan forces early in the week put down the bloodiest uprising of the three-year regime of President Romulo Bellocourt. Authorities said 153 persons had been killed in the leftist rebellion, centred in a marine garrison. Official estimates put the toll at more than 200.

World Briefs

A group of 13 young East Germans, bringing a baby with them, seized a 38-ton river boat Friday and escaped to the west in a hall of bullets. The three warring factions in Laos reported near agreement on formation of a coalition government Friday. Twenty-three prisoners escaped from the minimum security provincial jail at Regina Sunday night, but by Friday all but four were recaptured. Soviet Premier Khrushchev bitterly attacked the European Common Market Thursday night, shortly after the windup of Communist bloc economic strategy talks. An 11-year aviation mystery ended with discovery in Northern Ontario of wreckage of the plane in which hockey star Bill Barilko and a companion, Dr. Henry Hudson, were killed.

WEEK IN THE WEST

A subterranean upheaval has tossed 5,000 feet of British Columbia's Klamath-Terrace highway and a government campsite into Lake Lakelse. The slide triggered by the upheaval Thursday snapped off 80-foot high trees and swallowed earth-moving equipment, leaving trees and campsite outcrops in islands of oozing blue-grey mud and debris in the middle of the lake. No one was injured in the slide, second in the area in two weeks. A similar upheaval May 25 sliced almost a mile off the highway. Thursday's slide cut road connections to Kitimat and the power supply to Terrace. Terrace is 160 miles northeast of Prince Rupert and Kitimat is 40 miles south of Terrace.

Two proposals to develop the fabulous reserves of Alberta's Athabasca oil sands have been made to the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board. The board currently is hearing a $124,000,000 proposal by Great Canadian Oil Sands limited of

New York to mine the sands. The proposal is opposed by Citrus Service Athabasca Incorporated, which has applied on behalf of itself and Imperial Oil Limited, Richfield Oil Corporation and Royalite Oil Company limited for a $100,000,000 development to extract oil from the sticky sands of the banks of the Athabasca River 280 miles northeast of Edmonton. A date of hearing of the Citrus Service application has not been set.

Reports Idle On PM's Desk While Consumers "Fleeced"

New Democratic Party Leader Tommy Douglas told a crowd of 1,500 here Friday night that Prime Minister Diefenbaker has sat on the fence while two important royal commission reports sat idle on his desk.

Speaking to a well behaved crowd, which featured only one heckler in Kelowna's Memorial Arena the NDP head amplified his previous statements on unemployment, educational development and at the same time took a swipe at the Prime Minister.

"Mr. Diefenbaker is trying to sound like J. P. Kennedy and that's a pretty pathetic performance."

Referring to a statement made Thursday by the Prime Minister, Mr. Douglas said: "He didn't have to wait until 10 days before the election to take drastic action on price control."

He said the two reports made by the royal commission are: (1) price spread for food production, (2) an investigation into the meat packing industry.

He said the reports both showed the farmers and consumers have been "fleeced and fleeced unmercifully and Diefenbaker hasn't done a thing about it."

The Prime Minister said Thursday he "would take drastic action against businessmen who use the devaluation of the Canadian dollar as an excuse to raise prices."

FIRST NDP ACT

Speaking in support of Kelowna's O. L. Jones, Okanagan-Boundary candidate, Mr. Douglas pledged the first act if elected would be to give farmers and producers "parity price that would give them a better income."

He reiterated his five point plan to bring about the parity price:

- Set up producer market boards with power to market producers product.
- Each year government will negotiate a parity price for each primary product so farmer and consumer will know the price before starting out.
- Make available grants and loans to market agencies to market, store and process farmers' products.
- Make grants and loans available to farmers to procure "more of the things they need to mold co-operative system."
- Install a program of individual credit for young farmers who have not enough capital and also to those already operating to build up farming unit."

202 Take Part In Awards Day At High School

One of the largest graduating classes in its history, 202 Grade 12 and 13 students, Friday attended Kelowna High School's Awards Day.

A crowd of 800 parents and friends were packed into the high school gym, banked with spring flowers and vine-covered trellises, to see major school and community prizes and scholarships awarded to deserving students.

Greetings from City Council came from Ald. L. A. N. Poterton from School District 23 board of trustees, Dr. Brian Holmes and on behalf of the Department of Education, Frank Orme.

The students were presented by their home room teachers. Student of the Year trophy was won by Christine Neumayer who also took the $25 Future Nurses Club scholarship presented to her by Linda Moir.

SPECIAL AWARDS

School principal Charles Bruce presented a number of special awards to students. These included the Don Bitcher Memorial trophy presented by his brother Bruce Butcher to Ronald Graf, Mr. Butcher, a former student and valedictorian was killed in a plane crash.

The Ed Welter Memorial trophy, in memory of a former student killed in an air accident in Germany while performing as a member of the RCAF aerobatic team, was won by Sandra Williams who also was presented with the Haworth watch for academic achievement. Sandra was the top academic student of the year.

Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin presented the Grote Stirling Memorial Scholarship of $100, given annually by the Primrose Club, to Sandra Williams. Mrs. McLaughlin presented the Job's Daughters bursary to Carol Munslow. Larry Campbell received the Haworth award.

A scholarship of long standing at KHS, the Jack McMillan award set aside by a now-disbanded IOOE chapter here, was presented to the second highest scholar of the year, Elaine Broten. Ald. Poterton made the presentation.

A new trophy added to the prizes, the Katherine Weddel Memorial trophy, was won by daughter of the school's vice-principal Linda Zwick.

Canadian Forestry Association prizes were won by Jim McDonald and Wayne Marsden who later in the evening as

Unemployment Will Get Worse

On unemployment, the former Saskatchewan premier said it was not a passing phase and "it will get worse and not better."

He said a million young people will enter the labor market by 1965 "and where will they go to work in building new homes?"

Automation, he said, will wipe out one job in every seven that exists "unless the rulers do something about it."

He said the only change in the new health plan is the doctors will be paid directly by the medical care commission according to schedule of fees rather than by the patient.

He said a New Democratic government would assist the municipalities by making long-term, low-interest loans to them for the expansion and maintenance of improved educational facilities.

"The tax levies on homeowners in the municipalities needed to support school costs are becoming an increasingly intolerable burden."

He went on that massive educational development and expansion must be undertaken by Canada "if we are to fulfill the promise of the nation's potential in human resources."

His government, he said, would see that Canadians have free education from grades one to university and including technical colleges.

On the nuclear question, Mr. Douglas said the answer is simple: "Learn to live with fellow men or face the prospect of not living at all."

He said the NDP government would not accept nuclear weapons "on Canadian soil" in order to prevent the "world nuclear club" from getting bigger.

OFF TO TERRACE

Norman Hilborn, well-known executive member of the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 26, Kelowna, has moved to Terrace to take up a position with the Department of Transport.

Five Records Fall At Meet In Kelowna

Five records fell this morning at the South Okanagan Junior High School Track and Field Meet at the City Park oval.

Most impressive mark to fall was done by Ron Knut of Kelowna who jumped 20 feet, one half inch in the 16 and under broad jump event. The old mark was 16 feet 10 and three quarter inches.

Fourteen year old Farley Smith of Kelowna set a new 16 and under record of five feet four inches, bettering the old mark by four inches.

Other records to fall went to Lita Gouff of Oliver who broad jumped 15 feet nine inches, breaking the old mark by two feet one quarter inch. Dave Parsons of Penticton's Princess Margaret, leaped 34 feet 11 inches in the hop, step and jump, bettering the old mark by more than three feet. Greg Ware of Penticton set a new shot-put record of 35 feet two inches. The old record was 32 feet three and one half inches.

Alvin Hamilton Speaks Briefly

In Kelowna yesterday for a day of chat with the press was federal minister of agriculture, Alvin Hamilton.

Hamilton, guest of an afternoon coffee party at the Kelowna Hotel, was accompanied by the local Conservative Association. As he left, he had a lot of questions for him beyond the scope of his 18,000,000 dollar mandate.

Hamilton, who is a member of the Kelowna Conservative Association, was asked to discuss the government's ARDA program to incorporate

Grass Shack Underway On West Side Of Lake

When motorists and motor-boaters alike pull into the parking lot and pier this summer at Mervin Purvis' "Grass Shack", they'll think they're at Pago Pago.

Today, Mrs. Purvis officially announced the beginning of a tourist - attracting development that will eventually include cottages, more stores, a marina and other summer fun facilities.

Construction excavating began this week on the $15,000 Grass Shack being built on a long stretch of beach (1500 feet) just southwest of the Okanagan lake toll bridge gatehouse. Modelled on Tahitian lines, it will be a storehouse for such treasures including clothes and foodstuffs and everything for the family.

The dream child of well-known Kelownian Mrs. Purvis, a business woman with a flair for the exotic, it will be similar to her other Hawaiian enterprises, one on the road to Vernon and the other near Penticton.

FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The store is the first of the development. In what Mrs. Purvis calls her Five-Year plan, she hopes to use every inch of her three and a half acre property for buildings.

The "shack" will be 48 feet long by 21 feet wide with a "lanai" or verandah running the entire length. A pier for water skiers to swim right from the water practically into the store is also being planned.

Mrs. Purvis said she hopes the development will be "quite an asset for Kelowna." She expects to open July 1 with Roma and Arthur Mattison as managers. The building was designed by Dan White of Vancouver, architect with the firm Ficus Construction, which is building the "shack".

WINS BURSARY

Miss Edna Olsh, an 18-year-old graduate of Vernon Senior High School, has won the Kelowna Radio station bursary of $200. Presentation was made this afternoon by J. D. Bews on behalf of the local station at 15 Kay and Jack Buckland have the high school graduation ceremony.

CHANGE LOCATION

Modern Appliances and Electric Ltd., will move from its location at 1607 Pandosy St. to the building now run by Ritz Music Shoppe, 567 Bernard Ave. The move is to take place July 1st with Jack Buckland have operated Modern Appliances at its present site since 1939.

Religious Immunity Result Of Small Dose

Mankind finds a great medical boom in the ability of science to prevent disease through the process of inoculation. Louis Pasteur found that various diseases could be prevented by inoculation with a mild form of the disease. The mild form of the disease renders immunity to further infection.

In the field of religion, however, one finds a phase of life when inoculation as a preventive measure is a dangerous thing. Vaccination with a mild case of Christianity may result in immunity to the real thing. One of the perils which we face in our time is this danger of being immunized to vital religion. And for such unfortunate folks, there can be done none of the great works that God has prepared through Christ.

One factor that can immunize a person against basic Christianity is the neglect of the inner motives that produce great faith. The Pharisees of Jesus' day bogged down in the minutia of legalism. But in so doing they often lost out on the inner spirit that gives religion its vitality and flavor. A man who is busy paying simple lip-service to man-made laws, can miss completely the voice of God when He speaks to him.

How many persons today are immunized to real religion because they have accepted as basic a belief in the vague generalities of religion without the spirit and specifics of the basically Christian faith which Jesus taught. They would be shocked to be regarded as anything but religious. We have a generation who are urged to take the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, fall down and worship and get up and practise these commendable principles. But there is something more to real religion than pious platitudes and legalistic ceremony. And there is something more to religious vitality than the social ability to win friends and influence people, and the religious by-product of being successful in business.

Vague generalities produce a casual kind of Christian who can take it or leave it alone. Which means he leaves it alone. One of the results of this spiritual immunity is that a person finds it difficult if not impossible to develop the true spiritual values of which he is capable. Another tragic result comes near the close of life when the immunized person discovers that he has been putting away no real spiritual capital. And, he finds himself caught with the deadly perils of spiritual poverty.

Spiritual sensitivity is recovered when we enter the fellowship of Christ's followers who see the importance of the inner reality of religious faith, and whose practise is prompted not by the outer compulsions of legalism in religion, but by the inner promptings of the Spirit of God in the human heart.

To take Christ seriously and to seek honestly to accept His message is actually to penetrate the veneer of immunity which one has cast about himself. Thus one's life is opened to the higher spiritual values which Christ alone can supply.—J.M. Schroeder, Alliance Church.

Byelection Shadows

Byelections, which are not always accurate indicators of political sentiment, appear to favor the chances of the Liberal party in the coming June 18 general election. Since the Conservative government was swept into office with its record 208 seat total in March 1958, there have been 14 federal byelections held. Eight of them were won by Conservatives, five by Liberals and one by the New Democratic Party.

But in terms of gains of seats, the Liberals are ahead. In nine of the 14 ridings there was no change in party affiliation. The Conservatives gained one from the Liberals when Louis Fortin won in Montmagny-L'Islet; the Liberals gained three from the Conservatives and the NDP gained one from the Conservatives. The NDP win was the upset of Walter Pitman capturing the Peterborough seat. The Liberal gains were in Toronto-Trinity when Hon. Paul Hellyer won; in Labelle, Quebec when Gaston Clermont won and in Leeds, Ontario when John Matheson won.

The byelections were made necessary by the deaths of nine MPs, the resignation of two others including that of Jean Lesage now premier of Quebec, the appointment of two MPs to the Senate and the appointment of the Hon.

George Peakes as lieutenant governor of B.C.

Perhaps the most significant by-election figures are the majorities of winning candidates. In the nine seats where there was no change in party affiliation, the Conservatives held seven of them but in every case the winning margin was reduced, sometimes sharply. In the two Liberal wins, the margin of their winning candidates were much greater. The Liberals won Russell in 1958 by 2,111 votes. They won it in the by-election by 6,918. They won Niagara Falls in 1958 by 521 votes. They won the by-election there by 5,119.

The Conservatives won Kings, P.E.I. by 1,134 votes in 1958 and held the seat by 163 votes in the by-election. They won Esquimalt-Saanich in B.C. by over 14,000 votes in 1958 and held it by 544 in the by-election. Their best effort was in Grenville-Dundas in Ontario where they won in 1958 by 6,453 votes. Mrs. Jean J. Casselman, widow of the previous member, held her husband's riding with a 5,141 margin in the by-election.

All of which may or may not indicate a trend, but by-election results are always one of the yardsticks used by political analysts to assess the chances of any party in an election.

Reading about the recent "trunk" murder in Chicago brought back memories of the "Roaring Twenties" and gave us an enjoyable painful spell of nostalgia.

Jet Planes And All Now But Election Still Gruelling

Jet planes and fast-moving motorcades have speeded up travel for the campaigners in the 1962 election, but electioneering is just as gruelling as it was in Sir John A. Macdonald's day.

The handshakes, speeches and interviews as the campaign for the June 18 voting moves into the homestretch leave the four party leaders little time to sleep, eat or even relax.

Canadian Press reporters travelling with Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Liberal Leader Pearson, New Democratic Party Leader Douglas and Social Credit Leader Thompson report on a day in the life of each of the campaigners.

The day was Thursday. It found the prime minister travelling by jet and car through Quebec province. Mr. Pearson was in the rich agricultural and industrial belt of southwestern Ontario. Mr. Douglas and Mr. Thompson were on the prairies. This is how each spent his day.

Mr. Diefenbaker flew 490 miles, drove 117 more, shook more than 200 hands—including the Queen Mother's—signed three city hall golden books, made a major speech and four minor ones.

DAY STARTS EARLY
His day in Quebec province started at 4:30 a.m. when he awakened in a Chicoutimi hotel room to work on government papers and election material. It ended at 10:35 p.m. when he left by car at 11:30 a.m. to board a special coach for a whistle-stop tour of the Maritimes.

He had breakfast—bacon and eggs, toast and coffee—alone, had a turkey with cranberry—sauce lunch with some 500 persons in Magog and dined with Mrs. Diefenbaker at night.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in French, generally reading from prepared texts, and in English. He dictated letters to secretaries on the plane, answered a long-distance phone call at the Windsor city hall, consulted aides on his speeches and government business and talked with reporters and Conservative candidates in the area.

Mr. Pearson arose at 7:30 a.m. in his Sarnia motel room for a tour of southwestern Ontario. He was already scanning the morning paper and breakfasting alone when a wakeup piper skirled his way through the hotel hall at 8 a.m.

At 8:39 a.m. Mr. Pearson was on the road. Ahead lay 12 brief addresses, a main speech before 1,700 at Windsor and an awesome array of handshakes, greetings, autographs, gifts and motor cavalcades.

MISSUS OUT ON FOOD
First was a businessmen's breakfast where the Liberal leader talked economics while his audience of 250 tucked away scrambled eggs, a hot bacon.

Then he addressed the distaff side at a lawn coffee party, with no time himself for coffee.

Lunch time found him in Wallaceburg where he nibbled on a salmon sandwich from a wax-paper bag and drank a half-pint of milk while shaking hands.

At Chatham, Mr. Pearson spoke at a fair. His cavalcade then moved through Tilbury, Wheatley, Leamington, Kingsville, Essex and Tecumseh.

At 6:30 Mr. Pearson reached Windsor, where his wife, Marjory, who had not been with him for four days, awaited him at his hotel. There were talks with aides, signing of letters, rifling through press clippings and then a light supper of veal chop.

At 10 p.m. he arrived at the downtown auditorium for a 40-minute address.

It was 11:30 p.m. when he returned to the hotel.

HAS EASIER DAY
Mr. Douglas travelled 818 miles from Port Arthur to Saskatoon but his day was more relaxed. His "compact campaign" has none of the chartered liners, big staff and press followings or tight whistle-stop schedules.

Awake in the Prince Arthur hotel at Port Arthur at his usual hour, 7:45 a.m., after eight hours sleep, he ate breakfast in the hotel cafeteria with his wife.

Ideas for Mr. Douglas' Saskatoon speech were exchanged on the four-hour flight to Saskatoon and the job was wrapped up in 15 minutes. Then Mr. Douglas read magazines, wrote a letter, caught a few naps and ate a TCA luncheon.

The half-hour stop in Winnipeg included a 10-minute press conference, a filmed television interview and a chat with campaign workers.

After arriving at Saskatoon by plane, 50 party workers sang "Tommy is our leader" before a five-hour motorcade whisked them off to a hotel for a press conference and taping of a TV speech for use that night.

The Douglas' had dinner alone in their room.

RETIREES AFTER MIDNIGHT
After the meeting he shook 200 hands, signed 55 posters with his picture, then spent 15 minutes with his 80-year-old mother.

Back at the hotel by 11:36 p.m., he called in his aides for a five-minute assessment of the crowd's reaction, ordered hot chocolate and toast and was in bed by 12:10 a.m.

Mr. Thompson arose at 8 a.m. leaving his sleeping car on the tracks at Regina after 3½ hours sleep. He had caught the train at Brandon after a Wednesday night meeting at Minnedosa, Man.

The morning was spent with aides polishing up speeches, making phone calls and holding a press conference.

Lunch was at a restaurant with Regina Social Credit candidate Arthur Boehme and 12 party workers.

RAIN CANCELS MEETING
Rain forced cancellation of a planned afternoon cavalcade through Assiniboia riding, so Mr. Thompson went to the television studio for an interview and a chat with acquaintances on the staff.

Two evening meetings were next on the schedule and during a 78-mile drive to Weyburn in Mr. Boehme's car, Mr. Thompson read the Regina Leader-Post and the Calgary Herald.

First on the schedule at Weyburn was a supper meeting of 14.

LOOKING BACK

Murder Most Foul Then A Manhunt

This is the first in a two-part series on one of the Okanagan's most famous murder cases, written especially for The Daily Courier by "Old Stager." Other interesting stories of the Okanagan, taken from the files of The Courier, will appear each Saturday on this page.

Several issues of the "Courier" during the spring and summer of 1912 were filled with a bizarre, but tragic, story that reads more like a wild west novel, than actual happenings in the usually staid and law abiding Okanagan.

Central figure in this affair was a character known as "Walter Boyd James," though there were later reports that his proper surname might be "Poelke." He was at one time an employee of the Belgo-Canadian Land Co., and worked also in Glenora. He was reputedly an American army deserter, and was often nicknamed "Jesse," after his namesake, the American gunfighter and perhaps this had inspired him to emulate that desperado!

It all began on a dark Saturday evening, March 16, 1912, at 8:45, to be exact.

A man entered the Okanagan Mission store, his face covered by a handkerchief, his hat brim pulled down, and brandishing a heavy revolver. A lone customer, E. Small, and Roy Randall, 17 year employee of the store, were the only occupants and were slow to comply with the command "Hands up!"

They thought it was a practical joke—but responded quickly when the gun was placed at Small's head, with a gruff threat to shoot.

Taylor, one of the proprietors, came in from a side room, and was promptly forced to open the safe, in which only $15 or so in cash was found, the rest being cheques. (The latter later claimed he only got $5.35!) Young Randall took this opportunity to escape. The robber fired at him from the doorway, but the brilliant light of the gas lantern in the store made the darkness intense outside, and the shot missed.

Randall went for help, but lost a lot of time trying to convince people that he was not joking, and when he arrived with help the robber was gone. Constable John Tooth of Kelowna was phoned, and given a description of the robber, who was about 24 years old, had bushy eyebrows, and from persons who claimed to have seen him hanging around the Bellevue Hotel bar nearby for several days, was tentatively identified as James. The Penitentiary and Vernon police were notified by phone, and a search begun.

On March 18, Constable G. H. Ashton of the Provincial Police, and a former member of the "Royal North West Mounted," together with Chief Roche and Constable Pope of the Penitentiary police, arrested James and a companion Frank Wilson, after a fierce struggle, in a room at the B.C. Hotel. The men were searched—but not thoroughly enough as it turned out—early in the morning were put aboard the steamer "Okanagan," and placed in a cabin. The prisoners' handcuffs were removed, but leg irons left on. Constable Ashton, who occupied the same cabin, refused the offer of a Penitentiary policeman to accompany him.

It was still very dark when the steamer left Sumnerland, its first point of call. James asked for a drink of water, and, according to his own story, when Ashton proffered the drink James whipped out a .22 pistol from a small holster concealed under his armpit. Ashton refused to surrender, and came at him. James fired, hitting the Constable in the head, and he fell unconscious. James got the keys, undid the leg irons and both men landed from the boat, unobserved, at Peachland.

Shortly after leaving Gellatly Landing, S. W. Stovell, whose job it was to awaken passengers, knocked at Cabin 34, got no answer, but thought he heard a groan. He summoned Alex McDonald, mate of the "Okanagan," who forced the door and found Ashton lying on the floor. The constable was taken off at Kelowna and rushed to hospital, and the escape reported.

"Special Constables" were sworn in. Armed to the teeth, two posses set out from Kelowna, one to Westbank and one to Peachland, and a posse went from Penitentiary toward Sumnerland. I well remember the excitement, and the disruption of the normal life of many citizens that resulted. The posses succeeded only in rounding up two pairs of suspects, neither pair being the wanted men.

On Wednesday, March 20, R. D. Ramsay and P. H. L. Seeley, of Wilson's landing, who had heard of the search from R. H. Parkinson (father of Kelowna's present Mayor), were watching out for the escapees. Ramsay spotted two men sitting on the beach, and armed with rifles, they crept up behind the two men, and captured them without a struggle. The small pistol was found on James when they searched him.

The prisoners were taken to Nahcay, and put aboard the "Okanagan" on her southward journey, take into Kelowna, tied to a post on the deck, Ramsay and Seeley standing guard. They were lodged in jail here, and the "Courier" states that "Camera fiends had a field day taking pictures on the boat and wharf."—TO BE CONCLUDED NEXT SATURDAY.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Cancer? Maybe Not

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've been told a sore that doesn't heal, especially around the mouth, tongue or lips, might be a warning sign of cancer. Is this one of the seven danger signals?

What about a small cut on the lip that heals immediately but leaves a tiny almost invisible spot or lump under the surface? Would this be a scar?

—MRS. J. H.

That's a pretty good question. Many people have been concerned about some wound that is slow to heal.

Unfortunately there is no single, simple rule for knowing when any one of the "seven danger signals" does or does not mean cancer. The sore that does not heal may be one with an infection, or it may be subject to repeated irritation which prevents healing, yet have nothing to do with cancer.

A "sore" in the sense of a cancer signal isn't usually painful. We pay attention to a painful spot. A painless one we are inclined to ignore. And we shouldn't, of course.

Nor is it likely for a cut that doesn't heal readily to be malignant. Cancer doesn't start from an injury of that sort. (True, some severe burns that are not treated suitably, and leave ugly, twisted, complicated scars do, after years, sometimes give rise to cancer, but that's quite different.)

Cancer starts from a cell that divides improperly. What causes it remains mostly mysterious, but we do know that it starts with an invisibly small fault which then grows and grows and grows.

It would be a fantastically long coincidence for us to get a cut at the exact point at which a cancer was just at that moment reaching the point of being big enough to see. But I suppose it could happen.

As to the cut lip, the lump could be scar tissue, or it could be a small cyst.

If any lesion, with proper treatment, does not heal, and if the "sore" persists or enlarges over a matter of weeks, without evidence of improvement, it warrants a biopsy to be sure.

A rough or raw-looking spot in the mouth, or a white spot that looks like thickened skin, or a lump of any sort deserves inspection. Whitish spots may be what we call "pre-cancerous lesions," which haven't reached the stage of being true cancer but are tending in that direction, and thus should be removed.

No hard-and-fast rule exists. The best we can do is call attention to the problems that MIGHT be. Have your doctor look at them. If they are cancer, you've found out in time, and the prospect of cure is high, 90 per cent. If they aren't cancer, think how much better you feel to find out!

Dear Dr. Molner: What does "venenata" mean? It was used in "sculp dematilis venenata," and I can't find the word in my dictionary.—MRS. T. H.

"Dermatilis venenata" means inflammation of the skin by contact—in this instance of the scalp. Source of the trouble could be anything from certain plants to chemicals, cosmetics, household compounds, possibly even some item of clothing.

NOTE TO A. McDi. It's possible to have measles more than once, but quite unlikely. Don't forget that there are regular measles, "three-day measles," which is a different disease, and (noted more recently) a skin rash, resembling the others, and called "5th disease."

TODAY IN HISTORY

Worcester, Mass., and neighboring towns were hit by the worst tornado in New England's history nine years ago today—in 1953. Ninety persons were killed, 1,250 injured and property damage was $52,000,000.

1862—The Royal Canadian Army Cadets was established.

1917—Control and rationing of all dairy products, instituted in Canada during the Second World War, officially came to an end.

IODE National Pres. Re-Elected

TORONTO (CP) — The national president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire is a busy Toronto mother who comes naturally by her interest in the organization.

Mrs. Peter L. Robinson, re-elected for a third term at the IODE's annual meeting in Charlottetown, recalls that her grandmother was a member of the 48th Highlanders chapter of Toronto.

Her mother also joined the chapter and although Mrs. Robinson originally became an IODE member while living in England, she, too, is a member of the 48th.

For her service to the order she has been awarded a life membership in both her own chapter and the national IODE.

Mrs. Robinson says her greatest satisfaction comes from "seeing women in Canada united to further the education of youth and to help those less fortunate than ourselves."

FATHER'S DAUGHTER

Mrs. Robinson, who has a school-age daughter, is the wife of a stockbroker and daughter of the late Rev. T. Crawford-Brown, padre to the 48th Highlanders for 25 years.

Several other members were re-elected to their posts at the Charlottetown meeting, including vice-presidents Mrs. Cecil L. Brown of Hamilton and Mrs. R. M. Walkey and Mrs. G. Douglas Little of Toronto.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED of Miss Elizabeth Jean Shillock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Agnew Shillock of Kelowna, to

Charles David Hackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. G. Hackett of Westmount, Montreal. The wedding will take place July 7 at Ryerson United Church. Miss Shillock attended the University of British Columbia and is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta. Her fiancé is a graduate of Bishop's University and a member of Zeta Psi. Miss Shillock's attandants will be Miss Brena Marrett of Vancouver, Miss Jill Rogers of Vancouver and Miss Sharron Simpson of Kelowna.

Final Meeting Of Season For Rutland Church Women

Rutland United Church Women met in the church basement hall Wednesday evening for the last meeting of this season, with an attendance of 22 members.

In the devotional period, Mrs. Victor Stewart, the Christian Stewardship convener gave a short but very interesting address. Mrs. C. F. Hopkins of Vernon, 1st vice-president of Okanagan-Kamloops Presbytery, and Mrs. K. W. Kinnard, president of the U.C.W. of Vernon, were guest speakers. Mrs. Hopkins spoke on the organization of the United Church, on the various levels, the local, the district, provincial and the national bodies and their various duties and responsibilities were very clearly explained. Mrs. Kinnard's talk dealt with the work of the local program committee, telling of various ways in which meetings can be made more interesting, and instructive.

She congratulated the Rutland U.C.W. on the program which the members of the Central Unit had put on that evening. The members had presented a play entitled "Four Ways of Looking At It", in which the leading part was taken by Mrs. Max Day, who read passages from each of the four gospels that appeared to conflict in their text when dealing with the Sermon on the Mount. Four "hidden voices" in turn (representing Matthew, Mark, Luke and John) explained the text and answered the questions. At the business session that followed, plans were made for cleaning the church and the basement by the two units of the U.C.W. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elwyn Cross, Mrs. F. L. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Perry Kyle. A pleasant social hour then followed. The next meeting will be in September, at the regular meeting night.

SOCIAL NOTES Mrs. D. Ennis left this past week for points in the three prairie provinces, to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Ennis, who is travelling with a nephew from Penticton, will be away until July.

Mrs. Ron. Lentz returned Wednesday evening from Edmonton where she had attended her father's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bleasdale and daughter Lynn were visitors to Vancouver recently for short holiday trip.

ANN LANDERS

The Wee One The Big One

Dear Ann Landers: I'd like to say a word to "We But Mighty"—the short lady who is sick and tired of hearing uncouth and thoughtless digs about her size. I'm a woman 6 feet tall in my nylons and I'd gladly change places with her. I've always been tall, even as a youngster, and I can't recall a single unkind remark from a woman. It's the men I'd like to strangle. Usually a 5'4", 130 pounder will come up with a tired line such as, "How's the weather up there?" Once a miserable little runt (an important executive) said "If you got on your knees we could dance."

Millions of people read your column every day, Ann. If you succeed in teaching those thoughtless individuals that it is unkind to make remarks about a person's height or weight you will have performed a useful service.—THE TALL ONE

Dear Ann Landers: About three years ago I read in your column that it is unwise for a girl to tell her fiancé all about her past. I wish I had taken your advice.

Last August Henry and I were married. Two weeks before the wedding he begged me to tell him about every fellow I ever went with. At first I didn't say much, because I didn't want him to think I was cheap (I went with two fellows seriously before I met Henry). He promised not to hold anything against me and said if I really loved him I'd confess ALL.

I finally caved in after several days of badgering. Now he throws up my past at least twice a week. No matter what we are arguing about he ends up reminding me that I was "pretty loose" before marriage.

Please print my letter and repeat your good advice. —BIG MOUTH

Dear Big Mouth: I remember the advice and it went something like this: If a girl has a baby out of wedlock or has served a jail sentence she should not keep such information from her fiancé. But she's a fool if she recites the names and numbers of all the players. It's none of his business.

A fellow who would nag a girl for such information will use it against her later.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a good man in many ways but he has caused me a lot of heartache lately. Clyde works part-time for a widow in her 60's. He is an excellent gardener and she thinks there's no one like him. He goes over there after work and on Saturdays no matter how tired he is.

I've asked him to give up this job because it isn't worth the money, but he refuses to quit.

Clyde broke his leg a few weeks ago and was hospitalized. The day after he came home she visited him and stayed three hours. She hardly said one word to me. The following day she sent him a get-well card.

I was upset over all the attention she paid him. Is this proper from a society woman to her gardener? He says I'm sick in the head but he still refuses to give up the job.

What do you think? — A WORRIED WIFE.

Dear Wife: It's perfectly proper for a woman to visit her gardener at his home under the circumstances you described. I'd say she overstayed her visit by about two and a half hours but outside of that I see nothing wrong.

Confidential to NO WILL. POWER: Sorry I can't go to Denver and police you. Why not clip some of these columns as reminders of what can happen to girls who don't use good judgment?

Kelowna Girl Wed In Vancouver Will Make Home In Prince George

A recent wedding of interest in Vancouver which took place at Beaconfield United Church united Miss Gail Loretta Prior of Prince George, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Prior of Kelowna and Darryl John Moore of Prince George, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Moore, Pitt Meadows.

Rev. D. Chalmers officiated. For the ceremony, the church was set with yellow mums and blue iris. Soloist Miss Margaret Irving sang "Through The Years" and "I'll Walk Beside You". Accompanist was Mrs. I. Hassen.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Prior chose a charming gown of white brocade designed in the Grecian style with scooped neck, long sleeves and a flowing, full length skirt. Her headpiece was a comb with an embroidered leaf pinpointed with seed pearls and orange blossoms with a four-layer veil of French tulle cascading to elbow length. She carried a white prayer book topped with pink rosebuds.

Her sister, Miss Carol Prior of Vancouver acted as maid of honor in a turquoise taffeta dress with lace insets at skirt and bodice. Matching accessories and a floral and net head-dress completed her ensemble. Central St. Prince George.

For a honeymoon trip to the United States, the bride donned a blue suit with white accessories. The couple are living at 1110 Central St. Prince George.

Two Strong Trends Seen In Furniture Forecast

By JIM BILLINGSLEY
VERNON—The many faces of modern and the multi-facets of traditional trace out two strong trends in Canadian furniture forecasts for 1962.

And naturally enough, Vernon furniture dealers say the variety of furniture of both contemporary-modern and traditional is good news to the woman shopping for furniture decor to suit her particular taste.

There's even more good news—both contemporary and traditional designs have achieved a classic form of beauty which makes them good mixers, and enables you to give your home an individual feeling.

STRONG FOR STYLE

Furniture stores on Bernard Avenue and one in Kelowna say Italian provincial is coming up strongly in the style field for 1962.

You'll recognize the Italian member of the furniture family tapered leg, classic carving detail on upholstered showwood, carving detail and outline on drawer and door front; antique hardware and use of exotic woods for accent interest.

Colonial and early Canadian fits into the historical bracket for a less formal and homier reflection of the past. A basically easy-to-live-with style, colonial's popularity is heightened by the wider range of clever reproductions of old pieces and its versatility in creating atmosphere.

Latest Canadian treatment is hand-decoration where the old-fashioned motifs—floral and scroll tracery—are based on earliest examples of authentic hand-decorated Canadian furniture.

ON DIET
Ever since upholstery went on a diet several years ago and slumped down to a graceful silhouette, the narrow arm and the slim back has been a revitalizing influence.

But Canadian manufacturers aren't content to stop with "looks." More comfort features have been developed with various cushion-seating techniques and more quality-control goes into basic construction. Fabrics tell a big fashion story for 1962. Several fabric houses in town say nylon leads the field in new developments for styling and for wear qualities. Big strides have been made by Canadian mills and the latest is the use of "multilobal" continuous filament nylon which reflects light and gives a shimmering lustre to pile fabrics on modern furniture stylings.

Even more important than fabric color and pattern in the wear-performance of the fabric you choose. Be persistent and ask your furniture retailer for high-grade fabrics. This will naturally add to the price of upholstered furniture, but it will also add satisfaction.

Sofas and chairs get more wear than any other piece of furniture in your home, so don't cheat yourself on fabrics when you step into the 1962 furniture fashion picture.

FLEMING FACTS

The value of the tourist industry to Okanagan-Revelstoke is increasing annually. The development of skiing facilities at both Mount Revelstoke and Silver Star is resulting in a greatly extended tourist season and a consequent increase in revenue.

Expansion of facilities to accommodate and entertain visitors is a major requirement and Conservative government policy has included policy to achieve this result.

The Small Business Loans Act specifically provides tourist industry projects and the expansion in the operations of the Industrial Development Bank has the requirements of the tourist and recreation industries as one of its objectives.

The operations of the Dominion Travel Bureau have been extensively enlarged by the Conservative government. The Bureau opened an office in San Francisco last year particularly to serve the requirements of Western Canada. My earliest speeches in the House of Commons emphasized the necessity for this office.

The Canadian advertising program in the United States has been increased. In addition to newspaper and magazine advertising supplemented by a wide range of brochures, this advertising includes the use of films, broadcasting and exhibitions.

Owing to the improved economic situation of the European countries and the resulting interest in travel abroad, the Dominion Travel Bureau is opening a European office based in London and this is expected to produce valuable returns.

An important supplement to all policies specifically designed for tourist promotion is contained in the accelerated National Park development, the increased grants to provinces for park and pleio sites and the greatly speeded tempo of Trans-Canada Highway construction.

VERNON VIEWPOINTS

A MINOR REVOLUTION took place in Vernon this week, in fact it's still on and we started it all. Following Minister of Labor Michael Starr's campaign speech to Canadian-Ukrainians, the meeting was reported and in the story, portraits on the wall of the auditorium were described as those of Russian poets.

Apparently no greater crime can a person commit than refer to Ukrainian poets as Russians. It was an honest mistake, as we took what was thought the precaution of making an error by button-holing one of the elder statesmen in the Ukrainian community to translate the captions. Somehow Russian found its way into the copy, and we regret any embarrassment suffered by the Ukrainian people here.

DESPITE WHAT WEBSTER'S dictionary says, an Indian's wife does not like to be called a squaw. We learned this too the hard way following last week's column when a delegation of Head of the Lake Indians arrived in the office to protest. Quite sure they would have gladly scalped us... if there was anything left to scalp.

WHAT A PLEASURE doing business with the politicians while they're vying for a seat in the Commons. They're a happy lot, full of cheer and co-operation and it's always this way before the election. It's not quite so afterward. Once the candidate is elected you sort of lose track of him until next election... unless of course he makes a stirring speech in the House.

BEFORE A CLASS in soap sculpture was set up at a public school in the Valley, a couple of instructors were ordered by the principal to look the situation over and lay down some rules. They came up with a sensible set: Must bring own soap; must bring own knife; must bring band-aids; if child is careless and cuts himself, he is out; if child accidentally cuts himself, he will stop and not do any more carving until cut is healed; if child cuts another child, he is out.

FROM ANOTHER NEWSPAPER: "The annual great book picnic was held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mathison. At this meeting planned discussion of Plato, Aristotle and Socrates was abandoned as members joined in the picnic events of the day."

HOW TO TRANSLATE REFERENCES: "I'm sure you'll find him capable of handling any job you have in mind." (Translation: We're glad to get rid of him.) And... "He's a consistently good team worker." (Translation: Hasn't had an original thought in years.)

EVER NOTICE THAT so many people never get interested in anything until they find out it is none of their business?

The last words of the risen Christ to His disciples before His ascension were, "And ye shall be My witnesses both in Jerusalem . . . and unto the uttermost part of the earth." —Acts 1:8.

This evangelism was being practiced well some 15 years later at Antioch, large and fast-growing city. When Barnabas had taught the Christians there all he knew, he brought Paul to the city. —Acts 11:25-26.

When a prophet named Agabus warned of severe famines to come, the Christians at Antioch voluntarily decided to establish a relief fund for their fellow-Christians in Judea, which would suffer more. —Acts 11:27-29.

Later, the ascended Christ revealed Himself a mid-st seven lampstands (churches), carrying seven stars (the churches' spirits); he commended each for its good works, condemned it for the bad. —Revelation 1:3. GOLDEN TEXT: Revelation 3:20.

Tramp Ship Has Chapel

VANCOUVER (CP) — Members of the crew of the Dutch freighter Rotte don't have to go ashore to attend church services.

The Rotte is one of the few tramp ships fitted with a chapel, complete with stained glass windows with figures of Christ stilling the waters and performing the miracle of the glut of the fishes.

At sea, Capt. Hendrik Grootveld, the ship's master, conducts Sunday services in the non-denominational chapel with eight rows of a baptismal font and tiny altar.

When the ship is in port, Capt. Grootveld invites both Protestant and Catholic clergy to hold services on the Rotte, currently under charter to haul grain from Vancouver to Communist China.

Music for the services is broadcast from high-fidelity tape recordings. The chapel is adorned with Greek religious symbols and door knobs symbolizing fish.

The Rotte, owned by Vinke and Company of Rotterdam, has a 40-man crew of mixed nationality including Dutch, Portuguese, Spaniards and Greeks.

Lord Beaverbrook Writes Book About Life of Christ

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, writing as "one of the worldly men of my generation," has published an 80-page book on the life of Christ.

Called The Divine Propagandist, the highly original examination was first written in 1925 but suppressed at the request of Beaverbrook's Roman Catholic friend Tim Healy.

The publisher, who once told a royal commission of the press that he regarded his newspapers as instruments of propaganda, was brought up the son of a Presbyterian minister in Newcastle, N.B.

The main thesis of the book is that Christ was neither gentle nor meek. He was a "missionary of joy" who displayed "ruthless efficiency" and "as a propagandist might be described as well-nigh merciless."

Beaverbrook believes Christ was not the Old Testament God of wrath presented by John the Baptist nor the intellectual in-terpreted by Saint Paul. Both have failed to understand the "achingly simplicity of Jesus."

PEA-SHOOTER STYLE

Harold Nicolson in The Observer says the book is written in "terse staccato sentences which are popped at the reader like globules from a pea shooter."

"To Lord Beaverbrook the story of Christ is not a 'gentle Jesus' story but something much more Canadian and robust."

Donald McLachlan in the Sunday Telegraph says Beaverbrook's argument that Christ ployee. But there is no doubt posed to wealth only when it very tempting offers."

Record Gifts By Presbyterians

TORONTO (CP) — Presbyterians gave a record $1,735,000 to their church in 1961, the 88th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was told Thursday.

Robert E. Aikins of Toronto, chairman of the board of stewardship and budget, said the money given by the church's 200,000 communicants exceeded the 1960 total by $113,151.

Rev. H. F. Davidson, secretary of the board, said that through its budget the church maintained its colleges, institutions, home mission fields and representatives in five overseas fields.

WILL MAKE IT HARDER WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg's United College principal told the United Church's annual Manitoba conference Tuesday that new regulations will be introduced to make it more difficult for students to leave the college at will.

S. Baptists To Remain U.S. Body

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention Thursday shunted aside a proposal for it to start taking in congregations outside the United States, thus becoming a worldwide organization.

The move, hinging on the proposed seating of delegates from a few churches in Western Canada, drew vigorous opposition from some speakers.

"It would be dangerous, divisive and damaging," said Rev. Dennis Hockaday of Durham, N.C. He said Canadians, who have their own Baptist Federation of Canada, are sensitively nationalistic and added:

"We are not wanted in Canada. Let us not force our way in."

The Canadian federation includes about 1,300 Baptist congregations. Sixteen congregations, not in the federation, sought to become a part of the Southern convention.

Mr. Hockaday termed them "primarily a factious . . . splinter group."

Rev. Olan Kennedy of Amarillo, Tex., urged that they be admitted, saying the move was intended to "be inclusive, not divisive."

Rev. Jack McKay of Edmonton also supported the constitutional amendment, saying it would strengthen the Baptist movement in Canada. He said it is getting weaker there while "Romanism and communism are getting stronger."

Delegates voted 2,696 to 2,042 to refer the matter to the convention's executive committee.

Graham Talks Of Religious Madmen

CHICAGO (AP) — "It is a strange quirk that the great madmen of history all have had some form of religion," evangelist Billy Graham said Thursday night.

Graham's ninth sermon of his current 19-day Chicago crusade for Christ was heard by 18,000 persons—the smallest crowd of the crusade. The largest audience was 44,000 last Sunday. Graham devoted much of his talk to the recently executed Adolf Eichmann, comparing the ex-Nazi with the infamous Biblical king, Manasseh.

"Probably in our day, the most wicked man you can think of is Adolf Eichmann, the man who planned and executed 6,000,000 people. Eichmann was guilty of idolatry."

"Instead of God, Eichmann believed in the super race. He believed man was God and this was responsible for the degeneracy whereby he could murder 6,000,000 people."

But Graham said, Eichmann did have a certain belief in God. "He had an intellectual concept of God, which was not sufficient. . . ."

June Bride

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

"The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily."

Fans Had a Brawl

TOTOWA, N.J. (CP) — Tom McNeely and Don McAtcer didn't finish their heavyweight fight Friday night, but the fans did.

In the words of boxing promoter Lou Duva:

"Holy cow! There I am in the ring and everyone is swinging at everyone else."

"It's a real donnybrook. Me, I'm in there as a peacemaker. Then they start swinging at me. So I get out in a hurry. I don't want to get killed."

The bout wound up with at least 20 fans in the ring. Other customers tossed chairs around.

Police escorted McNeely, from Boston, McAtcer, from Paterson, N.J., and referee Paul Cavalier out of the ring. Cavalier had just awarded the scheduled 10-rounder to McAtcer after disqualifying McNeely for low blows.

The 2,000-odd spectators in Gaijard's Arena were in an uproar. Some had climbed into the ring even before he announced his decision at 2:40 of the sixth round.

SUGGESTS RETURN BOUT

"They ought to have a return bout and get it out of their systems," Duva said. "But I'd like to put it on for the benefit of the police. Then there would be plenty of cops on hand. And they won't catch me in the ring with them again."

Jim Beatty Smashes World Mark

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Little Jim Beatty bettered the world two-mile record Friday night with the sensational time of 8:29.8.

The record is 8:32.0, set by Alfred Thomas of Australia, Aug. 7, 1938, in Dublin, Ireland. Beatty, returning to action after suffering three different leg injuries in recent weeks, ran the race in the Southern Pacific U.S. Amateur Athletic Union championships at Occidental College's Patterson Field.

Former Toronto Football Star Dies Friday

TORONTO (CP) — Ernest George (Ernie) Crowhurst, outstanding lineman with the Toronto Balm Beach football team that won the Grey Cup in 1927 and 1930, died Friday.

Crowhurst broke into football with Toronto Bellwoods and moved to Balm Beach in 1925. He and Archie Crozier and Dave Crow became known as the "Three Crows."

Despite his 250-pound frame, he became known as one of the fastest men in football. A middle wing, he teamed with Ted Reeve as the team's power linemen.

Yankees Blank Orioles 1-0 As Mound Crew Is Weakened

First it was Ralph Terry. Then it was Bill Stafford. Now it's Jim Coates. In the last three games New York Yankees' problem-plagued pitching staff has allowed a grand total of eight hits and no runs.

Coates added to the string Friday night, taking over where left-hander White Ford was forced out with shoulder pains after the first inning. He permitted only one hit the rest of the way as the Yankees blanked Baltimore Orioles 1-0.

The Yankees' mound crew is weakened by the absence of relief specialist Luis Arroyo and Ford's inability to post a victory since May 9. The stylish southpaw, who posted a 35-4 record during the 1961 campaign, is 3-4 this year.

Ford gave up one hit, making it a two-hitter for the Yankees. Coates' combination and extending the scoreless innings streak to 28½. Terry started it with a four-hit 5-0 triumph over Cleveland and Stafford followed with a two-hit job that beat the Indians 4-0.

PCL ROUNDUP

Mounties Explode In Fifth Dump Seattle Rainiers 6-2

Hawaii scored four runs in the sixth inning Friday night to take a 5-1 Pacific Coast League victory from first-place Salt Lake City Bees.

In the other games, Vancouver dumped second-place Seattle 6-2. Tacoma edged San Diego 1-0 and Portland whipped Spokane 8-2.

Vancouver Mounties scored five runs in the fifth to beat Seattle. Jackie Collum pitched the distance for the Mounties, giving up five hits. He drove in the first run for the winners in their fat inning. Seattle pitcher Pete Smith drove in both of Seattle's runs in the second.

Dick Phillips doubled home the only run of the game as Tacoma took its decision from San Diego.

It was the top of the ninth when Jose Cardenal doubled and then came home on Phillips' blow. John Goetz was the winner. He and hurler Sammy Ellis pitched one-hitters until the ninth. Goetz struck out 12, Ellis 11.

Portland won its game with six runs in the sixth. Consecutive home runs by Ron Debus and Gordon MacKenzie started the outburst. Debus came up for the second time in the inning and singled in the fifth and sixth runs. Swampfire Grant, who gave up eight hits was the winner. His only trouble came when Bobby Prescott homered with Nate Oliver aboard.

Aubrey Gatewood went the distance for Hawaii Islanders. The hard-throwing right-hander gave up only four hits while his mates collected 11. The Bees scored their lone run in the eighth.

Los Angeles Dodgers did it when in the 13th inning, swiped a half-game edge over San Francisco Giants, who were trounced by St. Louis Cardinals 8-4. It was the third setback in a row for the Giants and the fourth straight victory for the Cards, on the rebound after a string of eight defeats.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia Phillies beat Cincinnati's slumping Reds 10-3 and New York Mets snapped their losing streak at 17, trimming the Cubs 4-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Cubs won 3-2 in the second game, called in the eighth inning because of darkness. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Braves game at Milwaukee.

Wills drew a walk off reliever Don McMahon leading off the ninth at Houston, stole second and third, then sprinted home on Willie Davis' fly to centre. Larry Sherry held off the stubborn Colts in the last of the inning and was the winner with 4-13 scoreless innings of relief.

Ken Johnson went the first nine for Houston, giving up two runs in the second on Ron Fairly's triple. Wally Moon's double and John Roseboro's single, and a pinch homer by Frank Howard that tied it at 3-3 in the eighth. Bob Aspromonte singled home a Colt run in the fourth against Sandy Koufax and they went ahead in the sixth with walks off Koufax and Ed Roebuck, a wild pitch and Merritt Ranew's two-run single.

Sherry bailed Ron Perranoski out of a bases-loaded jam in the ninth by striking out Carl Warwick, then put down the Colts the rest of the way.

Gurney In Pole Position At Mosport - 200 Race

ORONO, Ont. (CP) — Dan Gurney of Riverside, Calif., flashed his Lotus 19 around Mosport Park in one minute, 33.3 seconds Friday to take the pole position in today's 200-mile international sports car race.

Gurney, one of the last drivers of the day to complete the qualifying run, shaved nine-tenths off the last record set on the twisting 2.5-mile circuit last year by British ace Stirling Moss.

Gurney's time will not go into the record books, however, since official marks have to be set in actual competition.

Gurney, 31, was 2-1-10 seconds faster than Roger Penske of Gladwyn, Pa., leader among the earlier qualifiers.

Penske at 1:35.4 won the No. 2 starting position in his Cooper Monaco, ahead of Masten Gregory of England who lapped in at 1:36.8 in another Lotus 19.

Friday's qualifying laps were driven to reduce the starting field of 29 cars when the race, in two 100-mile heats begins at 2:15 p.m. EDT today.

Second Place Belongs To Rutland Redcaps

Rutland Redcaps clinched second spot in the league standing when they downed the visiting Lumby Loggers at Centennial Park Thursday evening, by a score of 5 to 3.

Once again the Loggers out-hit the Redcaps, but they lost the contest through walks, errors, passed balls and wild pitches.

In the first inning Rutland went ahead with two runs. Schneider scoring on a passed ball, after getting one of Rutland's two hits. The Lumby catcher threw the ball, after retrieving it, but hit Don on the head, after he crossed the plate, knocking him down. In the uproar Bullock came in to score a second run, which was hotly disputed by Lumby, who claimed the ball was "dead."

The ump's ruled otherwise, but tempers were riled for the rest of the game over the incident.

Ken Hokazono went the route for the Redcaps, for his second win over Lumby, but was in difficulties in the last two innings when Lumby bunched hits, a double by Montgomery, the only extra base hit of the game, drove in a run in the sixth, and in the top of the seventh Lumby threatened, but a strikeout, a force at second and a runner cut off at the plate retired them with only one more run.

The Lumby runner charged the Rutland catcher, who was waiting for him with the ball, and knocked him over, but failed to make him drop the ball. When the infuriated catcher got to his feet a fight broke out, but it was quickly halted.

Rutland scored twice in the fifth, after two were out, and none on, with a hit, a passed ball, a walk and two errors. They got the clincher in the sixth when Hokazono walked, stole second, went to third on a dropped third strike, and scored on another error at second.

Line score: R H E
Lumby 100 001 1-3 6 6
Rutland 200 021 5-5 2 1

Batteries: Lumby, G. Dickson and Charest; Rutland, Hokazono and Bullock.

Next games: Rutland at St. Amant; Vernon at Lumby; Winfield at Enderby.

The tournament will represent Canada at the world championships in Toledo, Ohio. Five representatives also will be chosen for the British Empire Games to be held in Perth, Australia, in the fall.

In the 191.5-pound category, James Runner of Swift Current, Sask., defeated Rod Carrow of Toronto, then lost by falls to Bob Steckle of Kitchener and Hornblow.

Joe Boyko of Winnipeg lost two decisions, to Steckle and Robert Chamerot of Montreal. At 114.5 pounds, Harold Evans of Calgary lost decisions to Les Wallach and Chaisson.

K. K. Maltman of Kelowna, B.C., lost twice in the 213.5-pound class, by a decision to Claude Clavet of Montreal and by a fall to Eskka Ojanpera of Toronto.

Winners in eight divisions in the 191.5-pound division. However, he came back to win the next two.

Sixty-six preliminaries were staged Friday. Preliminaries continue today with finals scheduled tonight.

Gas Price Hike Probe Demanded In Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario exception of Imperial Oil and Retail Gasoline and Automotive Canada Oil Companies Ltd., announced increases of between one and three cents a gallon in petrol to investigate gasoline price increases across Canada Wednesday.

Kenneth Langdon, secretary of the association, said the increase will whittle service station operators' profits to the "lowest level ever."

He said the association will ask the government to take action under the Combines Investigation Act.

Major oil companies, with the exception of Imperial Oil and Retail Gasoline and Automotive Canada Oil Companies Ltd., announced increases of between one and three cents a gallon in petrol to investigate gasoline price increases across Canada Wednesday.

TOUGH OLD DAYS

LA TUQUE, Que. (CP) — Al-dori Dupont, 66, retiring as municipal clerk after serving this community since 1913, recalls that when he asked for a raise after his first 10 years as a clerk his $25 weekly salary was reduced to $22.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Splendid planetary influences should make this Sunday a highly enjoyable period. It is possible, but all thought of business out of mind and concentrate on pleasures shared with family and friends. Especially favored: Outdoor activities and short trips.

A child born on this day will be ambitious, conscientious and highly intelligent.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Look for good results in most of your endeavors on Monday. Excellent stellar influences promote congeniality, smile upon constructive efforts in all fields.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you have good reason for optimism—even though your financial status may not change too greatly before early 1963. Job advancement between now and November is indicated in your horoscope, and home and family matters will also be under excellent aspects for many months to come.

Social and romantic interests should prove unusually stimulating during the coming months—especially during July, September and November, but be on guard against fatigue and emotional tension during August and October. Be alert to good opportunities for business expansion in late December or early January. They could lead

If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that it would be well to start looking ahead now, since foresight in planning during the next several months can materially affect your prospects in 1963. Do not let the current year pass without having capitalized on every available opportunity for advancement—especially those having to do with long-range programs for financial security. Be on the lookout for these late this month, in July, September and November.

September will also be fine for making business agreements, entering property deals or achieving job promotion, but avoid fatigue and anxiety during October.

WELL STOCKED

GRANBY, Que. (CP) — The Yamaska conservation association's annual fishing derby will be held July 1 at nearby Gale Pond, recently stocked with 15,000 speckled and rainbow trout, ranging up to 17 inches in length. First prize is a boat and motor.

Aspects during September, November and December indicate a stimulating social life; will also have romance and home affairs. Look for some excellent business news in late December.

A child born on this day will be dependable and self-reliant, but may have to curb tendencies toward over-sensitiveness and temperament.

Opening lead—six of hearts.

When a contract depends on how the opponent's cards are divided, declarer cannot do better than follow the indicated probabilities.

This question of percentages is sometimes simple and sometimes complicated, but unless you're an expert mathematician, you will run into many problems that are difficult to solve. Fortunately, most hands don't present such headaches and most of the percentage plays that do arise can be worked out on a common sense basis.

Look at this hand where South was in three notrump. He won the heart lead in dummy and saw that he had eight sure tricks. He knew that the ninth trick could come from a successful club finesse, and he also knew that the ninth trick could be taken in diamonds if that suit was divided 3-2.

South knew enough about probabilities to realize he had a 50 per cent chance of winning the club finesse and only a 36 per cent chance of finding an even division of the diamonds. So at trick two he led a club and finesse. West took the queen with the king and continued hearts and South went down one.

He should have made the contract, of course. It was a case of misapplied knowledge. South's statistics were correct as far as he went, but he didn't go far enough.

After winning the ace of hearts, South should have cashed the A-K of diamonds and then led a diamond to the queen. In the actual case, he would have discovered the 3-2 diamond division and his worries would have been over. He could cash nine tricks quickly and not bother with the club finesse.

Let's suppose, though, that the diamonds had not been divided 3-2, which he would have found out when one opponent failed to follow suit. He could then fall back on the club finesse and hope for the best.

This method of play would have given him two chances to make the hand instead of one, and would have raised his prospects of success well beyond 50 per cent.

SEES REPLACING HEART

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Replacement of a bad heart with a good one is possible in humans within the next five or 10 years, a Yale university professor said Thursday. Such transplants have been made with dogs but have been only partially successful, mainly because the body seems to reject tissues of a strange heart. Dr. William W. L. Glenn told the Kentucky Heart Association. But development of remarkable plastic materials may speed the day of human transplants.

SPEEDING UP

LONDON (CP)—British Railways plans to squish the old complaint that trains on the London - Edinburgh route are slower than before the war. At present the fastest train does take 40 minutes longer, but the summer schedule includes three daily trains matching the 1939 time.

The Associated Countrywomen of the World was organized in London, England, in 1930, to promote international goodwill.

APPROVES AWARD
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed a congressional resolution Friday authorizing the award of a gold medal to comedian Bob Hope. The award was voted in recognition of Hope's entertainment of U.S. troops around the world. Similar medals were presented to George M. Cohan after the First World War and to Irving Berlin after the Second World War. The president, under the resolution, will have the medal struck by the treasury and will make the presentation.

Let them know:

We're the third province in Canada... not the last!

Why is it that more often than not the smaller provinces of Canada receive proportionately greater Federal aid and recognition than British Columbia? The answer is plain. While Members of Parliament from the other provinces have spoken out aggressively on behalf of their constituents, your MPs have failed to win effective support for British Columbia's legitimate interests. Obstruction of the Peace and Columbia power projects, unfair treatment of our great highways and bridges programme, inadequate share of defense contracts, and the refusal to grant a subsidy to the PGE comprise just a few examples. Without strong voices in Ottawa, British Columbia's progress in the creation of new industry, new jobs and a better environment in which you can work and live will be slowed down. Now's the time for a change. As Canada's third province in population and manufacturing production, British Columbia demands to be heard. Vote for your Social Credit candidate — the one man who will really speak out on your behalf!

Dramatic evidence of the continuing unfair treatment British Columbia has received from Liberals and Conservatives in Ottawa: in 1961, Federal Government tax revenue collections from British Columbia amounted to $597,600,000, but that Government's total expenditures were only $143,600,000; the excess of the Federal Government's collections over expenditures was $454,000,000!
